Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of
New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind ("Womankind") which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022 and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Womankind as of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022 and the results of its activities and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Womankind and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Womankind's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.

- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Womankind's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the schedule of expenditures of federal awards is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated July 24, 2024 on our consideration of Womankind's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Womankind's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022

Note 1 – Nature of organization

New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind ("Womankind") effective October 2016, was established in 1982 and incorporated in May 1985 as a not-for-profit organization. Womankind works with survivors of gender-based violence to rise above trauma and build a path to healing. Womankind bring critical resources and deep cultural competency to help Asian communities find refuge, recovery and renewal.

Note 2 – Summary of significant accounting policies

Financial statement presentation

The classification of Womankind's net assets and its support, revenue and expenses is based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. It requires that the amounts for each of the two classes of net assets, without donor restrictions and with donor restrictions, be displayed in the statements of financial position and that the changes in each of those classes of net assets be displayed in the statements of activities.

The classes of net assets are defined as follows:

Without donor restrictions

Operating – Net assets that are not subject to donor or Board imposed stipulations and are available for general use by Womankind.

Board-designated – Unrestricted monies or assets contributed to Womankind which are designated by the Board of Directors to provide long-term financial support. Use of these funds requires Board approval. In 2021, Womankind transferred $4,000,000 to a Board-designated fund to support future programmatic work and infrastructure. In 2023 and 2022, Womankind transferred $616,000 and $112,422, respectively, from the Board-designated fund to the Operating fund, which represented certain Board approved expenses to be paid for by Board-designated assets.

With donor restrictions – Net assets resulting from contributions and other inflows of assets whose use by Womankind is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by the passage of time or can be fulfilled and removed by actions of Womankind pursuant to those stipulations. When such stipulations end or are fulfilled, such donor restricted net assets are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributions

Contributions are considered to be available for general use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Contributions received and unconditional promises to give are measured at their fair value and are reported as increases in net assets. Womankind reports gifts of cash and other assets as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets, or if they are designated as support for future periods.

Revenue recognition

Womankind receives grants from government agencies in exchange for the performance of various services. Womankind recognizes government grant revenue as expenses are incurred to a maximum of the grant award.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of providing Womankind's services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs services and supporting activities benefitted. Expenses attributable to more than one functional expense category are allocated based on time and effort, or square footage.

Contributed nonfinancial assets

Womankind receives contributed good and services in support of its activities. Such contributions are estimated at their fair value and reported as support and corresponding expenses in the statements of activities.

Cash equivalents

Womankind considers highly liquid investments with original maturities of 90 days or less to be cash equivalents. Womankind did not have any cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022.

Investments

Investments are measured at fair value in the statements of financial position. Investment return (including gains and losses on investments, interest and dividends) is included in the statements of activities. Womankind's investments are classified in the highest level of the hierarchy (Level 1). Their quoted prices are in active markets for identical assets.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

As of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022, Womankind's management has determined that there are no potentially uncollectible receivables and thus, an allowance for doubtful accounts is not deemed necessary. Such estimate is based on management's experience, the aging of the receivables, subsequent receipts and current economic conditions.

Fixed assets

Womankind capitalizes all expenditures for furniture and equipment above $3,000 and website development, software and leasehold improvements above $5,000 and with an estimated useful life of five years or more, and recorded at cost. Depreciation of furniture and equipment are provided for on a straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of five years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the term of the related lease or the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Leases

Effective January 1, 2022, Womankind adopted FASB ASC 842, Leases. The standard established a right of use ("ROU") model that requires a lessee to record an ROU asset, which represents the right to use a respective asset (i.e., office space) for the lease term, and a lease liability on the statement of financial position for unrelated party leases for leases with terms longer than 12 months. Womankind has elected to use a risk-free rate to discount its operating lease liabilities to their net present value.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentrations of credit risk

Womankind's financial instruments that are potentially exposed to concentrations of credit risk consist of cash, investments and accounts receivable. Womankind places its cash with what it believes to be quality financial institutions. At times during the year, cash balances were in excess of the FDIC insurance limits. Womankind routinely assesses the financial strength of its cash. Womankind has not experienced any losses to date with respect to its cash. Investments (Note 4) are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market volatility, liquidity and credit risks. Due to the level of uncertainty related to changes in these risks, it is reasonably possible that changes in these risks could materially affect the fair value of the investments reported in the statement of financial position at December 31, 2023. Womankind's management monitors its cash, investments and the collectability of its receivables. As a result, management believes the concentrations of credit risk are limited with respect to its cash, investments, and accounts receivable.

In 2003, S.H.A.W.C. Housing Development Fund Corporation, Inc. ("S.H.A.W.C.") was incorporated pursuant to the non-profit laws of the State of New York for the purpose of acquiring, holding and operating shelter facilities for Womankind.

Since January 2004, S.H.A.W.C. leases its shelter facility to Womankind under an operating lease which expires September 2028. The rental charges to Womankind are based on mortgage payments and other incidental expenses that S.H.A.W.C. may incur to operate and maintain the shelter facility. Womankind is also a guarantor on the long-term debt of S.H.A.W.C.

In 2007, S.H.A.W.C. II Housing Development Fund Corporation, Inc. ("S.H.A.W.C. II"), a non-profit organization and an affiliate of Womankind, received an award from New York State Homeless Housing and Assistance Corporation for the development of a homeless housing project (the "Housing Project"). The award agreement provided approximately $3,200,000 for the establishment and operations of the Housing Project. The Housing Project commenced operations in October 2009. In 2017, Womankind leased a shelter facility from S.H.A.W.C. II that expires in December 31, 2027. The lease calls for annual payments of $8,240 in 2018 escalating to $10,751 in the final year.

Womankind, S.H.A.W.C. and S.H.A.W.C. II share common personnel and facilities. Womankind, S.H.A.W.C. and S.H.A.W.C. II are not Womankind for financial statement presentation due to the entities not having a controlling financial interest through a majority voting interest in either of the other two entities' boards.

Contributed event goods are used for fundraising events and galas and client supplies are provided to program clients. The event goods and client supplies were valued based on estimates of retail values that would be paid for purchasing similar products. Contributed services are composed of consulting fees for Womankind's strategic plan and legal services for administrative issues. Contributed consulting and legal services are valued and reported at the estimated fair value based on current rates for similar services.

Note 13 – Retirement plan

Womankind sponsors a 403(b) plan that covers eligible employees as defined by the plan. Womankind's contributions to the plan are at the discretion of the Board of Directors. Womankind did not contribute to the plan in 2023 and 2022.

Note 14 – Contingencies

Womankind receives a number of governmental grants for its programs. These contracts are subject to financial and compliance audits by the funding agencies. The effect of any potential audit disallowances are not reflected in these financial statements, as management does not believe that any audit adjustments will have a material effect on the financial statements.

Note 15 – Tax status

Womankind is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Womankind is classified as a publicly supported organization as described in Section 509(a)(2) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and not as a private foundation; therefore, Womankind qualifies for the maximum charitable contribution deductions for donors.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with Government Auditing Standards

To the Board of Directors of
New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind, ("Womankind"), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022 and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated July 24, 2024.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered Womankind's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements, on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of the internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Womankind's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of This Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Womankind's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance For Each Major Federal Program and on Internal Control Over Compliance Required by the Uniform Guidance

To the Board of Directors of
New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We have audited New York Asian Women's Center, Inc. d/b/a Womankind ("Womankind")'s compliance with the types of compliance requirements identified as subject to audit in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of Womankind's major federal programs for the year ended December 31, 2023. Womankind's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

In our opinion, Womankind complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended December 31, 2023.

Basis for Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Our responsibilities under those standards and the Uniform Guidance are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section of our report.

We are required to be independent of Womankind and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of Womankind's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above.

Responsibilities of Management for Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements referred to above and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, statutes, regulations, rules, and provisions of contracts or grant agreements applicable to Womankind's federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above occurred, whether due to fraud or error, and express an opinion on Womankind's compliance based on our audit. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance will always detect material noncompliance when it exists. The risk of not detecting material noncompliance resulting from fraud is higher than for that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above is considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, it would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user of the report on compliance about Womankind's compliance with the requirements of each major federal program as a whole.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding Womankind's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
- Obtain an understanding of Womankind's internal control over compliance relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Womankind's internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in internal control over compliance that we identified during the audit.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section on the previous page and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance may exist that were not identified.

Our audit was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
